in the entire country under this project. As per the Government policy, this programme is to be implemented on Build, Operate & Transfer (BOT) basis where user's fee will be levied. However, the levy of user fee would be the same whether the project is taken up on BOT basis or on Annuity basis by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI). NHAI had projected this proposal of four-laning of Hyderabad-Vijayawada section of NH-9 in two packages from km 40/0 to 160/0 and km 160/0 to 221/500 as being done in other cases. The cost of the proejct as per the feasibility report works out to Rs. 1460 crore. The action has already been initiated by NHAI towards award of work by adopting two stage bidding process.

(c) No, Sir.

(d) Adequate road safety measures as per norms have been proposed in this four-laning project.

(e) The work under Public Private Partnership (PPP) mode is likely to be awarded in the Year 2008 and expected to be completed by December, 2010.
